33 NOTES · 26 PLACES

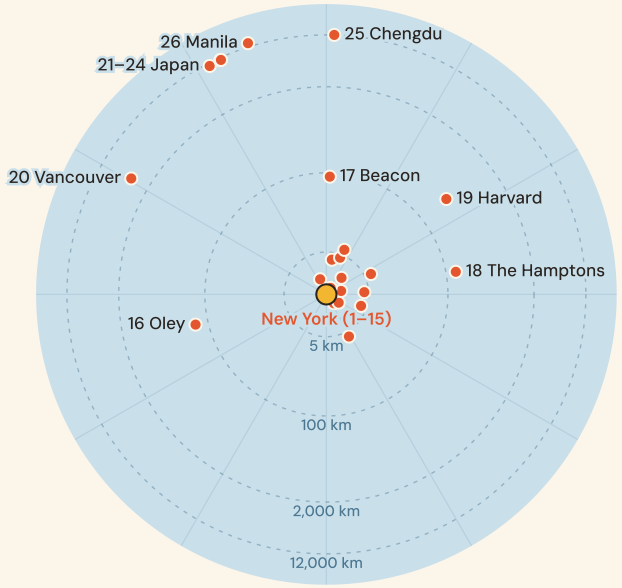

How this works

For Julia's 25th birthday, everyone who shared her 24th year was asked one thing: pick a place you went with her, write a short note, and send a photo if you have one.

33 people answered, from her rooftop in Chinatown to a seafood buffet in Ginza. Together they make a map of the year.

Every place has a number. Find it on the poster, then find it here to read what was written there. The journey starts at home, wanders across New York, heads out of the city, and then goes around the world.

33	26	5	8,497
notes	places	countries	miles from home, at the farthest pin (Manila)

The year, seen from home: every pin in its true direction from Julia's place, distance squashed.

CHINATOWN, MANHATTAN

Home base: hot pot nights, rooftop charcuterie, Lupa experiments and one very spilled bag of popcorn.

Mom MARCIA

Dear Julia, How are you 25 years old already? I can still remember my first born child with her hair all up, insisting to sleep outside and watching wini a poo all day long. I am lucky to be have been part of your 24th year while I was in New York, experiencing a hello and "shake" live from you as you go on with your adult life. Huhu. Mommy is very proud that you're living your life to the fullest (as you should). I love you. Happy birthday! Mommy hello dear jubeee, happy 25th birthday ❤️ for the past 23 years, we haven't gone a year without seeing each other. i can't believe this is the first year (other than your first year on earth...) where we didn't spend time together. so i guess for PJ's super cool map, our memories this year live in imessage texts and instagram dms 🥲 i've recently been rewatching a lot of romcoms and i keep thinking about how you introduced me to this fabulous world, spending countless hours with me every sunday rewatching movies you've already seen. i couldn't have asked for a better older sister, cousin, and best friend to grow up alongside me. miss you and love you so much!

Stella ROOMMATE & COUSIN

Happy birthday Julia!!! I know this is such a lame place to say as your roommate now, but my favorite memories with you since moving to New York have all been in the apartment!! Off the top of my head, I love the memory of our cousins hot pot night. I hope you know how much we really appreciated how you planned that whole night and brought the family together for something so cozy and comforting – it was the highlight of everyone's week that time and something we all desperately needed to lift our spirits. But aside from that, I can't begin to tell you how much I love all the little interactions I get to have with you since moving in. Even if it's just 10 minutes after work in the hall or kitchen or sitting with you while you prepare Lupa stuff, our little chats are so special to me, and I really take all your advice to heart. I remember telling you that one of the things I look for in my friendships is my ability to look up to them and want to be like them. I think that quality couldn't be more true for you. Whether it's in a silly sense like me really liking the Bath & Body works lotion you had and then gave to me as a kid (I continued buying it 4 years straight after that); or whether it's me wanting to be more like you nowadays when it comes to intentionally and proactively showing your friends how much you care, I see you as someone I can learn so much from. I hope you know how much your friends and family love you because you are so special! Have the best bday ever!!

Ella

At the apartment when Julia spilled our popcorn in the lobby leaving the doorman to clean it up (we got high, tried to watch Minions, and got turned away at the door) Happy birthday dear sister. Cheers!

Happy birthday Julia!! I'm forever grateful for all the fun we had in japan, like when you cried on the rollercoaster and on the shark ride! Seriously tho I had so much fun on that trip and I hope we can do it again soon. I also want to say thank you for making my brother so happy. My parents and I always say that he has a heart of gold, and I'm so happy to say that I think he met his match with you. I wish that only good things and good people come your way and that you get everything you want out of this year. Welcome to 25, I know it can be scary, but trust me, life gets even better from here! Have the most wonderful birthday!

Isabella

HAPPY BIRTHDAY JULIA!! ⭐️💫 I'm so grateful to have you in my life for the last three (almost four 😭) years! You are such an inspiration and always motivate me to be in better touch with my creative side, whether it be from galerie and lupa or the new year mood boards and your hummus + ninja creami idea 😹 🥰 my favorite memory this year was charcuterie on your rooftop and trying your tomato basil salt and straw ice cream🍎🍵 I love spending time with you and hope you have the happiest birthday ever!!!!🥳🥳

Hi Julia Happy Birthday! I really really enjoyed getting to spend quality time with you, PJ and the rest of the family in Japan! I especially enjoyed this private dining experience the four of us had. Time flies but you have your whole life ahead of you! I'm looking forward to the many more fun adventures we'll embark on together as a group.

Happy birthday Julia!! I hope this year treats you amazing! Wishing you good health, success in all your endeavors, and a ton of happiness and smiley faces for you and your loved ones

Getting to know you has been such a joy, especially during our Japan trip, whether it's strawberry-picking, onsen-hopping, or just seeing your photography skills in action!

Getting that photo of the three of us "potential in-laws" finally standing together against the siblings was such a fond memory (we were definitely the better-looking trio!) But ultimately as a favorite, I hate to say nothing beats that legendary Jackbox session where a certain "-demon" analogy was made!!

Jokes aside, wishing you a very happy birthday, and can't wait to see you again real soon this year Julia!!

- Jui

Grace

happy birthday julia!!! hope you have an amazing birthday. im very grateful to have met you through pj (some might say youre better than him 🤭), thank you for being the kind, creative, hardworking, and thoughtful friend you are!! I have many favorite memories together... but I will have to say my favorite is when we made drinks for lupa 😆 (unfortunately no pics from that day) it was so fun to test out drinks with you, im always in awe of your creativity. And thank you for trusting me!! I also realized we havent done a girls hangout in 2026, so that will have to change in 2027 😠 to many more mahjong, lupa, art, hiking, acquired podcast listening, and maybe running (?) hangouts!!

Pavin

Happy birthday Julia!!!!!!

I had a wonderful time in NYC with you and PJ! Thank you for having great kbbq with me, going to the science history museum, chelsea market, and giving me a free LUPA STUDIOS class! (thank you so much for the mahjong tiles, was amazing)!

I am truly happy that PJ lucked out and managed to swing someone as great as you. Really. On behalf of us Sethbhakdis, thank you for putting up with him for so long haha, and we really see the person he is becoming with you and are beyond happy. You are a good person and you are wonderful for PJ beyond doubt. We can only hope he can provide the same to you.

Have a great birthday and eat lots for us!!! We are always here for you whenever you need.

Zoe COUSIN

Happy 25th birthday my beloved dearest boogie woogie julia!!! I love you so much and am forever grateful to be such close cousins and see you all the time! You're the most considerate, kind, and passionately creative person I know. You continue to inspire me, whether it's through your projects or simply your curiosity for life. I hope that you can continue to be funny and sparky always! One of my favorite memories together was Vancouver thanksgiving. I loved the photos you took and the stop motion video you made. I also thought getting high and watching 'wicked: for good' in 3D was so funny (PIs can we get fried together again). So excited to spend more time together this year and I hope this year will bring you lots of love, luck, and bountiful eggshell harvests 🌸🌼🌘🐣

2 Spongies Cafe

LITTLE ITALY, MANHATTAN

Caroline

This fateful day Julia and I ventured to her beloved Spongies to collect our first batch of eggs. For many reasons this place is so special, but for me it showed me the kind, bubbly and go-getter, boss bitch Julia is. Nothing gets in her way, not even a Hulken that won't fit all our eggs or a leaking garbage bag. To celebrate Julia's arrival on this earth, I want to share that being around Julia is like experiencing someone pop confetti, a mix of anticipation, surprise, joy and awe. I feel lucky to be in your realm Julia and to have someone like you care so deeply about those around you, and not care about any obstacles or challenges in your way, it's truly a gift to balance these things. You inspire me to grow and expand, to change with the seasons and to always be silly and make room for a giggle. I love you and I hope today is as marvellous as you!

Feliz cumpleaños Julia!!! Although we have been to many places together in the past year, this was the only picture I could find of us solo in the same frame, but it was from a place where we created so many great memories so I'm happy about that. Thank you again for being such a wonderful friend and watching the days go down before you leave to Thailand is a pain, but that only means we should cherish the time and hang out more! Hope you have a great day filled with many blessings 🙏 happy birthday my darling julia!! just by virtue of living life alongside you, you've challenged me to be a better friend and more audacious in my creativity because of all that you are. im always so amazed with everything you accomplished and I am blessed to witness it. we've attended two years of hanami nights (feels like it's been 10 years, has it only been 2 years? 2 years feels like forever, or however big thief sang it). you remind me of spring—always in bloom and welcoming the tide of change. I'm so lucky I've gotten to witness the petals turn pink twice alongside you, and I hope we can spend the rest of our lives embracing the oncoming warmth of the world together. love you!
